

FROM THE CAP'N

Bet you thought you wouldn't see this newsletter, well I got you! I made this newsletter before I left for college. By now I'm settled in to my dorm and probably getting used to a roommate. But, I wanted to let you guys know that I had a great time for my bash. I'm proud to have recruited you guys and prouder to call you friends.

- Kahn

WEAPONS REPORT

We are in for a treat, Koron wrote something up for me to place in the next newsletter. Here is his piece:

Weapons officer report: Paintball

Hey guys, Ellen's Amusement Park has allowed us free air and use of one of their guns for payment of building the current field.

Also, I want to know if you guys want to go to Paintball Games of Dallas again soon before it gets too cold. Kahn and I played in the cold once and it sucked.

See you guys later, that is all. - Koron

AMBASSADOR KAHN

Well as most of Region 3 of Starfleet know's me as an ambassador of the mighty Klingon Empire, I have to perform duties to help keep the relations of our two clubs in good terms. I told you all about meeting a young lady at Aggiecon, well I talked her into coming up for a visit and to go to the Comic Expo up in Dallas. Her brother tagged along, but I didn't care. My parents actually let them stay with us. I'll go into more detail in our next meeting, but guys I think I have broken the myth that only ugly girls go to these cons. Who ever started that rumor must have the worse luck or like the company of men better.

I have been looking for a suitable model to represent our chapter and have only been able to successfully find a bird of prey model in the ST:TNG kit that comes with the Romulan Warbird and the Ferengi Marauder. While I'm not too happy with the size of the AMT/ERTL model, I think that it will probably have to do until we gain enough members to upgrade to a K'Tinga (D-7) model. I have heard rumors that the new Star Trek movie (Generations) is suppose to have some models released and the bird of prey that the Duras sisters were on is among the listed items coming out to support the movie. Right now, the only way we can have a larger model for display on a recruitment table is a B.O.P. "figurine" that was put out by a company called ENESCO, and the price is not something that I feel like I can afford just now. There is brighter hope though, I found out that Hallmark stores now have their 1994 xmas Trek ornaments in, and this year it's a B.O.P.! I have put it on my birthday wish list. It looks a little larger than the model from AMT/ERTL, but it's detailed at lit. I might have to figure out a way to light and display it for recruitment tables.

The toy company, Playmates, is putting out a toy version of the Klingon disruptor. If these are to scale, or close to, they might be great for uniforms. I'm unsure if these are out right now or not, if any of you get the chance to swing into a store that sells Trek toys, you might want to check and report back.

The best news of all: United Cutlery has introduced a Klingon fan's next piece of costume accessory. What is it? A knife called the "Bird of Prey Battle Knife". What does it look like? Look on the back of this paper to see a photocopy of the advertisement.

(continued)

Next month when I'm in town, I would like to have an afternoon that we run up to the Parks Mall in Arlington and hit up the Starlog store. They might have the knife, but they will most likely have the Klingon ship figurine I mentioned. There is also a communicator pin that we can get that you wear on the sleeve of your uniform. If Starlog doesn't have it I'm sure Lone Star Comics does. It's been a long time since we did a comic book shop crawl.

I'm attaching to this newsletter another sheet of paper with the book marker idea and the recruitment flier we can place at the shops we hit up. The book markers might be trickier to place since some stores may not allow us to do it, so I made them a little smaller so that we can covertly place them in the novels and put them back on the shelf. I did this back when a Freddie ship was holding a book promotion. I snuck right in, and placed my book markers in before they knew what happened.

WORDS TO KNOW

klin: Short for a Klingon, warrior.

ghoze: shit

komerex stella: Imperial Trifol Symbol komerex: Empire, culture that expands

komerex zha: The perpetual game

khesterex: Dead culture

khest'n: curse word that's like "friggin"

kex: off. blank, inoperative (like a computer)

KLINGON BOOKS TO READ

The Final Reflection - John M. Ford

How Much for Just the Planet? - John M. Ford

The Klingon Gambit - Robert E. Vardeman

Klingon Encyclopedia - Mark Okrand

ST:TNG Vendetta - Peter David

CONTACT

I.K.V. Black Demon
c/o John Harrington Jr.
3470 Oak Tree Ln.
Midlothian, TX 76065

Storm Front
c/o Steve Hale
2830 Starwashed Dr.
Midlothian, TX 76065

Klingon Assault Group (K.A.G.)
P.O. Box 421
Reese, MI 48757

K.A.G. Force Recon
Sue Frank
2508 Pine St
Philadelphia PA 19103

Directions to our meeting place:
Every third Sunday 2-4pm.

I.K.V. Black Demon

DISCLAIMER

STAR TREK, STAR TREK: THE NEXT GENERATION, STAR TREK: DEEP SPACE 9, AND KLINGONS ARE ALL TRADEMARKS OF PARAMOUNT STUDIOS. NO ENFRINGMENT IN COPYRIGHT IS INTENDED BY THEIR USE IN THIS PUBLICATION.

SO THERE.

Newsletter created in MS Works 1994

BIRD of PREY Battle Knife

NEW! A fantasy-styled, futuristic knife for all your interstellar experiences. The Bird of Prey introduces a totally new concept in the history of cutlery! With the ease of SLIDING a button forward, you extend two single-edged side guards. These warrior appendages will prepare you for whatever invader you may face!

Other Unique Features include:

- 12 1/2" overall length
- Slotted 420-J2 Stainless Steel blade - 6 1/2" long
- Space-age quality, black Zytel® handle and spiked butt cap
- Genuine black leather sheath
- Manufactured in the U.S.A. - first nation to take on manned space travel first human visitors to the moon

Beam One To Your Home!

Retail $100.00
ORDER # UC726
YOUR COST ONLY
$49.99 ea.

